I Peter 3:8-12— “Men must recognize the value of unity in brotherhood”

Radical unity is expected but not automatic

Radical unity isn't easy or natural for guys

Radical unity is the gateway to blessing

TEAM TALK

1. When you hear the word brotherhood, what comes to mind, and who comes to mind?
2. Would you agree that unity is imperative for the church, but specifically, for the men of the church?
3. Which area do you struggle the most in, in the fight for unity (compassion, brotherly love, tenderheartedness, courteous (humility), not vengeful, and or being eager to “bless” someone—who doesn't deserve it)? Why?
4. Do you live as if you know, no matter what you face, that your calling to righteous living (in part fighting for radical unity) doesn't change, and that God WILL deliver you in His time and in His way?
5. Will you commit to growing in the area you struggle with the most (discussed in question #3)?
